Prince Warriors Book Review: Priscilla Shirer is best known for her women's ministry and powerful speaking style as well as her acting debut in the movie War Room. But, her talents as a children's fiction writer are just equally as impressive. I would compare the first book, Prince Warriors, in her new trilogy along the lines of Narnia written in modern verbiage. For example, the book mentions Minecraft and iPhones! It's an easy read and relatable for kids. Best of all, it is steeped with religious allegory. In fact, the book's website points out all the "Secrets" where Priscilla Shirer has used the scene to parallel with the spiritual temptation and warfare that Christians face. I recommend this book for all ages. I read it as a "read aloud" this summer to my children and couple of their cousins who were staying with us for a week. The audience ranged in age from 8 to 15 and they all enjoyed it! I enjoyed it as well, so don't be shy about picking this book up too, parents!

I love to use quality books for my younger child to read during her homeschool reading lessons. I like for her to organize what's she's reading in Lapbooks. I created a pretty extensive Lapbook for Prince Warriors since this book has lots of chapters and I'd love to share it with you here.

To make the Lapbook, simply stack 4 file folders glue them together - bottom on top of the next folder. That will give you one Lapbook with 4 distinct sections. (Part 2 needs 2 sections - one section just for the Secrets!)

I've included a lapbook piece for each chapter with questions printed RIGHT ONTO the piece! Your students will read a chapter, cut out the lapbook piece for that chapter, write in the answers to the questions, and glue it into the folder. By the way, I also included the answers at the bottom of each page (You can cut that part off before giving the paper to your child, but it will give you a quick way to check their work.)
